

Dear FCC,

I would like to state that the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law protections. I work swing shifts, and it is very annoying to have the telephone ringing constantly when I am trying to sleep. Before I signed up for this "No-Call" list I would usually get 8-10 unwanted calls per week. I am now lucky if I get one. This list has been a blessing for me.

I feel that this is a matter that is best handled at the state level and should be left alone by any federal agency. Isn't there a better way to spend your time and money than getting involved in something like this. Please leave this to individual states, there is already more than enough federal bureaucracy in this country.

Thank you,

Brian Hixon
